Getting There & Getting Around

Suvarnabhumi International Airport in Bangkok is a hub for international flights, while Don Muang Airport is a hub for budget airlines for both domestic and international routes. Those wishing to explore the rest of Thailand can easily do so via buses, trains and rental cars from the capital city. If you're looking for a break from the incessant hustle and bustle of Bangkok city, Hua Hin and Pranburi offer the perfect beach escape. Taking Highway No.4 (Petchkasem Road) to the West for a 3-3.5 hour drive, you can restore your sanity and indulge in some peace and quiet.
